

Service provided by Department:

- The University is imparting education in agriculture, agricultural engineering, home science and other allied sciences.
- The University is conducting research for the development of new high yielding crop varieties and technologies for natural resource management at main campus and its Regional Research Stations.
- The University is transferring latest technologies to the farmers through its Krishi Vigyan Kendras and Farm Advisory service scheme.